

Integrated Finance & Accounting Solutions, LLC (IFAS) is proud to be the corporate sponsor for "The Ladies of Distinction." The Ladies of Distinction is a mentorship program established at Elizabeth Vaughan Elementary School in Woodbridge, VA.

On January 20, 2010 the Ladies of Distinction and IFAS President & CEO, Tabatha Turman traveled to the White House for a tour. While on a tour the Ladies received a personal welcome from First Lady Michelle Obama. Mrs. Obama took the time to greet each visitor making an effort to speak to each and every guest. It was a historical moment for all.

There were 44 Ladies and 7 adults who participated in the tour.

You can view a video of Mrs. Obama and the Ladies by going to the White House site or click the link below. We are near the end at @ 39:56 minutes.

The mentorship program is designed to help support the academic, personal, and social goals of our 5th grade girls. Its purpose is to promote academic excellence, good character, respect towards themselves and others. This includes being community helpers, promoting personal/social success, and striving to be leaders. The Ladies of Distinction mentorship program consists of five components which are as follows; Scholarship, Service, Empowerment, Enrichment, and Leadership.

IFAS is committed to supporting the Ladies and assisting them in reaching their goals.
